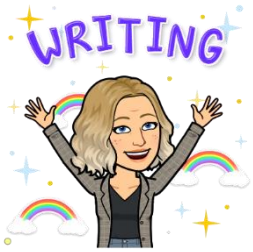
English Lesson 8

LO: To punctuate direct speech



Lesson Video link:

https://leadacademytrust-my.sharepoint.com/:v:/g/personal/nicolarea_forestlodgeacademy_co_uk/EXt2OkZkWxlPjuKiByBV81MBkYrgHLHF0ximLYvAK4lh9w?e=FGf7DF

Guided Practise- add the missing punctuation- the red areas are where you need to add something.

Harry looked confused and replied _what's Hogwarts_ _

(careful- it's a question)

what's Hogwarts _ replied Harry, looking confused.

i think I'll call him Hedwig _ said Harry.

Challenge: split direct speech

you are not going to that school _ yelled Uncle Vernon_ _it's all a load of nonsense_ _

Now add the direct speech punctuation to this dialogue:

Hello, Nick said Harry.

Hello, hello said Nearly Headless Nick.

You look troubled, young Potter said Nick.

So do you said Harry.

Ah said Nearly Headless Nick, waving an elegant hand a matter of no importance. . . . It's not as though I really wanted to join. . . . Thought I'd apply, but apparently I 'don't fulfill requirements

But you would think, wouldn't you he erupted suddenly that getting hit forty-five times in the neck with a blunt axe would qualify you to join the Headless Hunt

Oh – yes said Harry.

Challenge: The speech above repeats the word ‘said’ a lot. Can you use the word mat attached to the assignment to change them to some more interesting synonyms for said?

You've finished! Well done! Now turn in your work on Teams or email it to forestyear6@forestlodgeacademy.co.uk